Eye Support is a high-potency antioxidant formula, containing a comprehensive range of nutrients which are particularly beneficial, supportive of, and protective to eye tissue. Eye Support is rich in lutein and zeaxanthin which are found at high levels in the retina of the eye. The formula also contains grape seed extract, bilberry extract, zinc, and vitamin E.

- The eye has a greater requirement for nutrients (in particular antioxidants) compared to any other organ in the body, and even a slight lack of these essential nutrients and/or blood flow can cause immediate deterioration in eye function.
- Eye Support contains a powerful mix of carotenoids and flavonoids - carotenoids in plants and humans help to retain intracellular communication and protect against damage from UV light.
- Contains natural vitamin E, a powerful antioxidant.
- Grape seed extract (providing proanthocyanins, a type of flavonoid) is a powerful antioxidant and has a particular affinity for blood vessels.
- Contains the yellow carotenoids lutein, zeaxanthin, and meso-zeaxanthin from marigold extract: the centre of the macular in the retina of the eye is made up almost entirely of lutein, zeaxanthin, and meso-zeaxanthin.
- An important antioxidant and filter of blue light, lutein can help protect the retina from UV damage.
